The Commonwealth Games

The Commonwealth Games bring nations together in a colourful celebration of sport and human performance. But the Games have evolved dramatically since their beginnings in 1930.

Held every four years, with a hiatus during World War II, the Games have grown from featuring 11 countries and 400 athletes, to a global spectacle of 6,600 sports men and women from across 71 nations and territories.

The Commonwealth Games have also made progress in gender equality with the 2018 Games making history as the first major multi-sport Games with an equal number of medal events for both men and women.

Underpinned by the core values of humanity, equality and destiny, the Games aim to unite the Commonwealth family through a glorious festival of sport and culture. Often referred to as the 'Friendly Games', the event is renowned for inspiring athletes to compete in the spirit of friendship and fair play.

The 2022 Games will be the first time the West Midlands has played host to the event, following London 1934, and Manchester 2002. As preparations for the Birmingham 2022 Commonwealth Games take shape, the city and the region become part of a lasting legacy, one that displays world-class teamwork, athleticism and friendship.

The Birmingham Commonwealth Games

We are the Birmingham Organising Committee for the 2022 Commonwealth Games Ltd ("Birmingham 2022"). We are responsible for the planning and operational delivery of the Commonwealth Games in Birmingham and across the West Midlands. This includes the sport programme, venue and competition management, ticket sales, all ceremonies, and the Queen's Baton Relay.

Birmingham 2022 will shine a light on this vibrant corner of the Commonwealth and work to improve health and wellbeing and a sense of cohesion for local communities. This is an event that will help the West Midlands to grow and succeed, be a catalyst for change, and foster the spirit of friendship, athleticism and competition.

These are a Games for everyone, a level playing field for men and women with a fully integrated para-sports programme, and a huge emphasis on the Commonwealth's youth. There is no better stage to showcase the world's most inclusive, fair and progressive multi-sport event.

Our Social Values Charter

The Birmingham 2022 Social Values Charter sets out the values which are important to us as the organisation responsible for delivering the Games. It applies to the delivery of Birmingham 2022 from conception through planning and implementation, review, and post-Games activities.

We will live the terms of this Charter through our delivery of the Games.

What We Stand For

Engrained within Birmingham 2022 are those values which unite the Commonwealth Nations, and which underpin the Commonwealth Sports Movement. These values form the framework for our vision, mission and strategic focus for the 2022 Games.

The core values and principles of the Commonwealth Nations are set out in the Commonwealth Charter. Many of these are especially pertinent to Birmingham 2022 and have influenced our strategic focus for Birmingham 2022 including human rights, sustainable development and protecting the environment. We have a suite of policies which cover these areas of focus and which can be found at www.birmingham2022.com

The Commonwealth Sport Movement is led by the Commonwealth Games Federation (CGF), the organisation responsible for the strategic direction of the Commonwealth Games. The vision of the CGF is to build peaceful, sustainable and prosperous communities across the Commonwealth through sport. In its Transformation 2022 strategy, the CGF sets out the values of the Commonwealth Sports Movement: Humanity, Equality, and Destiny.¹

These values, which unite the Commonwealth nations, and which underpin the Commonwealth Sport Movement, are all reflected in Birmingham 2022's vision, mission and strategic focus:

The Strategic Focus of our Social Values Charter

Our Social Values Charter focuses on the following five key areas:

- Sustainability: sustainability is an ongoing process to ensure environmental, economic and social aspects are considered in all key decisions. By balancing these aspects, we can meet the needs of our Games without compromising the needs of future generations.
- Health and Wellbeing: we want to maximise the opportunities presented by the Games to improve levels of physical activity and wellbeing of communities.
- Inclusivity: we want the Games to be accessible to all and to promote a culture that reflects the diversity of the local communities.
- Human Rights: we want to ensure that in our delivery of the Games we always have the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights in mind, and we respect, protect and promote those rights and freedoms guaranteed to all individuals under law.
- Local Benefit: we want to use the Games to contribute to the local economy, improve our local communities, and provide opportunities for our local people.

How We Will Deliver Our Vision, Mission and Strategic Focus

Birmingham 2022 will deliver our vision, mission and strategic focus through four principal delivery channels:

- Procurement: we will give appropriate weighting to the content of this charter in our procurement decisions, ensuring that our suppliers meet the social values commitments they have made to us.
- Workforce: our social values charter will guide the way we recruit and look after our staff and volunteers.
- Community Engagement: we will engage with the widest possible audiences, reaching into communities to ensure they are fully represented and able to participate.

APPENDIX: Legacy and Benefit

The OC and all Games Partners are working together to harness the unique opportunity presented by the Games to drive change and to ensure that the Games provide measurable benefits and a lasting long-term legacy. We are still determining the scope of the lasting legacy we believe we should aspire to, but we have identified nine key themes on which we are focusing our attention, all which have the aim of helping the region to grow and succeed.

We have established a cross-partner committee to devise and oversee the implementation of a legacy plan which can be delivered before, during and after the Games, making a long-term impact on the region. In addition, each legacy theme has its own working group, dedicated to helping us to achieve our objectives.
